

NEW RELEASE!

The Oh Series™ Everyday Ethics

ETHICS & COMPLIANCE

We are all faced with making decisions every day. Some are large and some are small. When we're faced with a decision that involves right and wrong choices at home or at work, sometimes it's hard to figure out what's the best decision in a given situation. In this program, learners will a look at some examples of ethical situations that can make a person say "OH?..."

It's important to remember that some of those decisions can result in actions that have major consequences - for the organization, our customers and for ourselves.

Topics covered in this new series include: accounting/reporting miscues, cash bribe, gifts, collusion, time theft, kick-backs, bid switching/bid rotation, price fixing, market division and more!

About the Program:

This powerful, new video series features 15 dramatic, thought-provoking vignettes that entertain while they tackle deep ethical and compliance situations.

By the end of this program, you'll not only be aware of and be able to recognize 'sticky' situations that can cause problems; you'll be better prepared to do the right thing.

This New Program Will Help Learners:

- Describe your organization's values, standards and expectations regarding workplace integrity
- Understand your organization's policies & procedures for addressing work-related ethics concerns
- Identify and review examples of ethical situations

It's In It For You (and Your Organization)?

What's the bottom line deliverable of The Oh Series™? It's about people like you and me making right decisions!

We're all faced with difficult and challenging situations. It's not always easy doing the right thing. And that's why we need to do our best in making RIGHT decisions.

Making WRONG decisions... just has too many consequences... for the organization AND you!
